

Disposable Tips for Tecan Pipetting Platforms

Introducing high quality disposable tips

Quality disposable tips for precise, reliable and safe pipetting

Manufactured to the highest standards. Tecan's disposable tips have been designed to meet the most stringent quality requirements. Computer-controlled manufacturing systems, state-of-the-art production processes and integrated quality control procedures are used to produce tips made from the highest quality polypropylene. To guarantee consistent quality throughout the production process, all production tools are subject to frequent checks.

Tip features. Pipetting precision and accuracy are ensured by optimal tip design. This includes carefully molded openings that deliver the highest possible performance. Smooth surfaces with high hydrophobicity prevent retention of sample liquid. The carbon content of the tips makes them electrically conductive and allows liquid level detection.

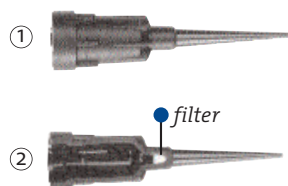

Ease-of-use guaranteed. Tecan offers different disposable tip options for handling a wide range of volumes. These include 10 µl, 200 µl and 1000 µl disposable tips which all fit the same standard cone. To meet the needs of customers, these tips are available with or without a filter and come packed either in cardboard boxes or in blister packs. After a few simple steps, all disposable tip options are ready to use on the Tecan pipetting platforms.

High performance pipetting. The shape of tips or inappropriate material properties can have considerable adverse effects on pipetting results. The risk of pipetting errors dramatically increases if tips do not fit properly or if the tip outlet geometry is inadequate. The use of Tecan disposable tips guarantees optimal performance of all Tecan pipetting platforms. Disposable tips are intended for a single transfer, i.e. one aspiration and one dispense step.
